

My Scholar Story

As a first generation low income undocumented student, the financial support provided by the donors and Mt. SAC has enabled me to continue my education. Without such support, my educational journey would have been much more difficult for me, family, and community. In addition, the scholarship provided an emotional support that was much needed in a time of struggle. It showed that someone in this world besides my immediate family, cared enough about my education to contribute their hard earned financial support.

At the moment, I am attending Claremont McKenna College and considering several options for my future career endeavors. One possibility is to apply to a Master's program in Latin American studies at the University of Texas, or the Universidad Bolivaria de Venezuela. Another possibility is to attend law school, pursue a Law Degree and become a practicing attorney for non profit and grassroots organizations,. The third option is to take a year off school and travel to several Latin American countries.
